

WILSON SENDS ULTIMATUM TO HUERTA GIVING HIM UNTIL 6 O'CLOCK TOMORROW TO OBEY COMMANDS

On The Great White Way

NEAR-NEWS AND CHATTER FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

To the lady first correctly guessing the identity of the person of whom the following is a character sketch, and bringing a copy of this paper to the Tribune office, a cash prize of $1.00 will be given. The subject of the sketch is a prominent citizen of La Crosse. After winning one prize, a contestant will not be eligible to again compete for a period of three months.

Monday an unknown called The Tribune on the telephone and inquired who ran for vice president on the G. O. P. ticket in 1912. Of course we told him it was the late "Jim" Sherman, and when he replied that "Jim" was dead we were unable to deny it. Off hand, we concluded that "Jim" had no understanding and that a dead man was defeated for V. P.

We owe the unknown an apology, and a correction. After self-sufficiently giving him this "bum steer" the editor sought the American Year Book for 1913, and thus became advised of the momentous facts.

But, unlike the tariff, this V. P. affair is not a "local issue," witness the following from the Springfield (Ill.) Register:

"Who was the republican candidate for vice president? James S. Sherman died before the election.

"This office had no less than a score of calls repeating the question and appealing for information. The Register will venture to say that 99 of every 100 persons who read this editorial will make a dive for lower paragraphs to refresh their memories. We will not hold you in suspense any longer. Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri was vice presidential candidate on the republican ticket in 1912."

Had we not, as aforementioned, turned to The American Year Book, we should not have understood the Chicago Tribune's protest against the Register's claims for Herbert S. Hadley, or its exhortation to Nicholas Murray Butler to come to the defense of his own. Herewith verbatim from the Year Book:

"The Electoral Vote—The casting of the electoral votes in the several states on January 13th, whereby Woodrow Wilson and Thomas R. Marshall were formally elected president and vice president of the United States, was observed with somewhat greater interest than usually attends the meeting of the electoral colleges. It was occasioned by the failure of the republican national committee to designate a substitute for James S. Sherman, the republican nominee for vice president, who died October 29, 1912. The freedom of choice thus left to the republican electors of Utah and Vermont produced in Herbert S. Hadley, then governor of Missouri, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, the candidate of the west and of the east for the vacant places on the republican ticket. The final selection of Dr. Butler for the honor by the electors of Utah was delayed until the meeting of the electoral college."

Oh, very well! That disposes of a perplexing question and establishes the status of "N. M. B." and "H. S. H." but now we are up against another poser. Who of our readers can enlighten us? Enclosed find stamped envelope for reply. Who in creation is "T. R. M.?"

and the mayor told of a "wealth of cases" in which the woman officer could be of immense value and in which, in his opinion, the police department was useless.

Delegations from the Twentieth Century and La Crosse Women's clubs and the D. A. R. attended the meeting in a body.

Messrs. D. W. MacMillan, William Doerflinger, W. F. Goodrich, N. M. Scott and John C. Burns addressed the committee on the appropriation, explaining in detail the estimated cost of the undertaking. The chief opposition to the appropriation came from Alderman P. W. Mahoney, although others were hesitant to vote for an appropriation. On a motion to grant $1,000 the vote stood 8 for and 9 against.

Immediately Alderman Schueberger was on his feet with a motion to grant the committee $500 with the understanding that, in the event they ran short they could return and After voting $500 to the entertainment fund of the Homecoming, Made in La Crosse and Fourth of July celebration planned by the board of trade, the common council last night, sitting as a committee of the whole, plunged into a debate on the police woman question, during which the police force was attacked by Alderman B. C. Smith, members of the council were accused of "playing politics" by Mayor Ori J. Sorenson petition for more. This passed by a vote of 9 to 8.

McConnell Opens Plea Attorney John E. McConnell opened the fight for the woman police officer with an address in which he briefly outlined the underlying principle of the movement.

"The greatest principle today is prevention," declared Mr. McConnell. "Where years ago we waited for crime and then punished the offender today we seek to nip the crime in the bud, to train our boys and girls that crime and thoughts of it will be eliminated."

"The prevention theory applies to medicine and law. The doctor today uses preventive measures, where a few years ago he waited until the patient became seriously ill to act. The lawyer of today is retained to keep his client out of trouble, rather than defend him in litigation. The employer of labor guards against danger and takes every precaution to prevent accidents rather than to make plans for fighting damage suits after his workers are injured."

Lauds Juvenile Court

"This same principle is applicable to criminality or incipient criminality. A few years ago we had no provisions for the disposition of juvenile cases. When I was district attorney and a boy or girl was brought in there were only two things to do. One was to send the boy and girl to jail, the penitentiary or the reform school, the other was to let them go. Today under the juvenile system they may keep the children out of institutions without releasing them."

"You and I, most of us, are too old to be affected by legislation. Our lives, to a great extent, are moulded and our habits set. This is not true with the young. They can be made good or bad, according to their environment."

Woman Valuable

"In my opinion the woman police officer could be of immense value in moulding the boy or girl of tomorrow. The average child has an inherent dread of the policeman. Consequently they meet him in fear and trembling. With a woman it would be different. They could get their confidence and once you have the confidence of a boy or girl his life can be moulded by you."

"The question of expense, I understand, will enter this. In my opinion that is the least. The reduction of criminal court procedure which

REPUBLICANS TO HOLD CONVENTION

"Regular" Leaders Agree on This After Conference Last Night with E. L. Philipp

DENIES HE IS A CANDIDATE

Says Sentiment Is Strong for a Regular Republican Ticket but Says He Won't Make Run

Following a conference last night with E. L. Philipp, Milwaukee, local republican leaders agreed to call a county republican convention at which resolutions will be passed calling for the creation of a regular republican state ticket including a full slate for state offices and a candidate for United States senator.

Mr. Philipp, who has been touring the state, arrived here last night and after supper was in conference with George H. Gordon, former United States district attorney for the western district of Wisconsin, W. E. Barber, Frank P. Hixon, John M. Holey, Sr., B. C. Smith and others.

Mr. Philipp told the La Crosse men that, in his opinion, the stand taken by the so-called stalwarts fifteen years ago was right and that subsequent events in the state's political history had proven that stand to be right.

A General Demand

He maintained that he believed there is to be a general demand for a straight through and through republican ticket and had taken the initiative himself in an effort to crystallize this sentiment on one set of candidates.

In his tour of the state, he said, he had found sentiment in favor of the straight republican ticket and that twenty-two of the counties had already held conventions and passed resolutions protesting against high taxes, commissions and extravagance in state government.

It is the plan, as outlined by Mr. Philipp, to hold county conventions throughout the state and wind up these with a monster state convention to be held, probably, in Milwaukee.

He was assured by the La Crosse regular republicans that a county convention would be held here.

Is Not a Candidate

"We will call a convention," said Mr. Gordon this morning, "but where, how and when has not been determined."

Gossip about the state is to the effect that the regular ticket would see Mr. Philipp a candidate for governor and ex-Senator Whitehead the candidate for the United States senatorial nomination.

Mr. Philipp announced positively that he will be a candidate for no office.

Mr. Philipp returned to Milwaukee last night.

MEN WITH FLEET ARE EAGER FOR ACTIVE SERVICE

News that There Is Hitch in Negotiations with Mexico Pleases the Jackies

ARMY ALLREADY FOR MOVEMENT

Forces on the Border and Elsewhere Prepared to Move Over the Line at Hour's Notice

AEROPLANE FLEET IS PREPARED

Air Invasion of Mexico Is Completely Planned Out by Signal Corps Officers in Command

BY BERNARD RUCKER
(Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

ON BOARD THE ARKANSAS BY WIRELESS TO ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 18.—As the four great battleships, headed by the Arkansas, the flagship of Rear Admiral Badger, steadily plowed their way toward Mexican waters today, the hopes of the men of the fleet that they might yet see action at Tampico were revived. Press reports were received telling of the hitch in the Mexican salute agreement.

New Interest

Officially no advices have been received, but when press reports of an agreement by Huerta to salute the flag were followed by reports that the dictator had riled Washington by quibbling demands, the men took a new interest in their drills.

The orders to the fleet remain unchanged. The instructions to sail from Hampton Roads to Tampico are still in force.

The battleships Louisiana and Michigan will join the fleet at Tampico Wednesday.

Admiral Badger expects to be off Key West tomorrow, when the fleet will be joined by the South Carolina. Practice battalion drills are in progress on the ships.

Army Is Ready

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The United States army is ready for war. Secretary of War Garrison said today: "Everything is prepared to move, provided the situation becomes serious."

He indicated a request by Senator Sheppard of Texas for more troops on the border would be met. General Bliss wired Garrison that he will send troops along the border to find the exact needs at every portion, and the secretary intimated that this might mean an increase in the force later.

The war department now has on the border about 6,000 soldiers—five regiments of cavalry and two regiments of infantry between forty-one and forty-two thousand soldiers, including the coast artillery, are ready for immediate service, the secretary said.

He declined to say what troops would move first.

"All I can say is that we are ready," he commented. That the situation is regarded with extreme seriousness, however, was indicated by the secretary's statement that he "doubted his ability to spare any regular troops for a possible militia encampment in South Carolina."

Aeroplane Fleet Ready

Uncle Sam's aeroplane fleet is ready for any contingency. War department officials admitted today that plans of the army war college contemplated wide utilization of this new arm of the service in case of hostilities in Mexico. Within a very few days the main flotilla of the aeroplane fleet can be dropping bombs and doing scout duty in northern Mexico at least, because most of the government machines are now concentrated at San Diego, Cal.

Colonel Reber of the signal office, admitted that he now had all plans ready for the "aeroplane invasion."

BUMP FIRM READY TO QUIT THE CITY

Unless Steps Are Taken by Tuesday to Assure Substantial Backing They Go to W. Virginia

INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION REFUSES

Won't Take Interest in the Stock Subscription to Build Factory for the Fastener Firm

Unless steps are taken which may be interpreted as an assurance of substantial support in La Crosse before Tuesday, Bump's Paper Fastener company will accept an offer to remove to Morgantown, West Virginia.

The industrial association recently declined to interest itself in a stock subscription to build a factory for this concern, on the grounds that the machines could be made on contract to better advantage, and that such a factory would not hire many hands.

Factory Necessary

Mr. Bump claims that, in view of the fact that he has other things beside the fasteners to make, a considerable force would be employed. He regards the factory as necessary because it is his experience that contract manufacture is faulty, tardy and in every way unreliable and unsatisfactory.

Up to the present time 50,000 fasteners have been sold, and sales of an equal number have been lost because of inability to deliver the goods owing to contract manufacture delinquency, according to the inventor.

Board of Trade Helpless

Owing to a recent resolution passed by the board of trade directors, declaring that within one year after the rejection of a project by the Industrial Association it will not be considered by the board, the latter organization cannot officially interest itself in the Bump case. However, Secretary J. L. Utermoehl, with the consent of President E. S. Heberd, is lending personal aid in presenting the matter to citizens.

Offers Big Loan

Morgantown's offer is a loan of $10,000. Mr. Bump prefers to sell $7,000 of preferred stock in La Crosse, enough to buy equipment, his plan being to use part of the Vote-Berger factory buildings. But Morgantown is insisting upon a decision, and the inventor will not defer his answer later than Tuesday evening.

Among Mr. Bump's inventions, one which he says will make his backers millionaires, is an "air-starter," for automobiles, launches and engines of all kinds. The machine can be sold for $50, one-fifth the price of other starters.

SHARP MESSAGE TAKES U. S. LAST WORD TO MEXICO

If Huerta Does Not Back Down by Tomorrow Evening Wilson Will Call Congress Together

WILL MEAN FIRST ACT OF WAR

Legislators Will Approve Blockade Orders and the Fleet Will Be Told to Enforce Them

MEXICO WILL DECLARE WAR

Expected that Such Action on Part of U. S. Will Cause Huerta to Give O'Shaughnessy Pass

WASHINGTON, April

18.—War with Mexico is almost a certainty at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Officialdom has practically given up hope of a peaceful settlement of the controversy with the southern republic. The United States has sent its last word. Huerta must salute the American flag in broad daylight, with all the formality required by international procedure or face the United States army and navy.

Huerta has until 6 o'clock Sunday night to agree to do so. If he does not the president on Monday will make history on capitol hill. He will tell of the entire futile attempt to enforce respect for the American flag by diplomacy and will ask that congress order a complete blockade of every Mexican port. This in itself will be an act of war, and it was almost certain that the authorization will be by the unanimous vote of congress.

The president conferred with cabinet officials in the White house this afternoon, paving the way for the expected hostilities. Not only has he lost all hope that Huerta will yield, but he is now convinced that the United Press uncensored code dispatch of yesterday from its staff correspondent at Mexico City, stating that Huerta desired to force war, in a vain hope of extricating himself from his present untenable position, was an accurate statement of the fact.

This dispatch was the first word official Washington had from an outside source that Huerta was only playing with the American government.

Final Ultimatum.

It can be stated upon authority second only to that of the president himself, that the message sent to Charge O'Shaughnessy this afternoon conveyed the administration's final ultimatum in the most vigorous Frightened and desperate, their clothing torn to tatters, hungry and leg weary the bandits are not expected to be able to elude capture until tonight. THE TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

LOOKING BACKWARD

Copyright, 1914 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Up and down the long aisles of Gerome's Gallery trailed the young and lovely Mrs. Flora Hemmingsway with Jay Jourdan at her elbow. In fact, so persistently was he at her elbow the attractive widow was glad of the opportunity to steal away when a chattering bevy of Jay's acquaintances bore down upon them and diverted her attention.

Thus it happened that Flora Hemmingsway stood alone before a picture which, having first claimed her interest because of its daring treatment and wonderful coloring, now was driving fire into her eyes and flame into her cheeks. She went nearer, affecting a languid pose with her lorgnette.

The artist's signature leaped at her from the dark corner of the canvas—Carl Silver! There was mockery in the pictured face of the artist's model—that French girl, Nana! How that name and that face bridged the space of years and swept her back to those never-to-be-forgotten days in Paris! She had been Flora Ramsey then, and only eighteen; and Carl Silver, in the early days of his struggle in the world of art, had been the central figure of her glamorous romance.

The young and lovely Mrs. Hemmingsway, enfolded in silks and satins, with her fashionable world around her, stood motionless and peered through her lorgnette at the picture which announced Carl Silver's success in his chosen profession. And her mind was swiftly winging its way back to Paris and to a plain, dusty little studio into which a willful girl of eighteen often dragged a reluctant and protesting chaperon, who, perceiving the charms of the young artist, scented danger in the air.

Young Silver was an American, too. He was of good family, and he carried indisputable credentials. He made love like a gentleman; and after a whirlwind courtship, Flora acknowledged his conquest over her heart and promised to wait for him. Then, that memorable day when she went alone to the studio, and softly pushed the door ajar, thinking to surprise him! It was the visitor who was surprised, for in the center of the apartment stood the artist with his beautiful model clasped in his arms—Nana, the girl of whom Flora had been secretly jealous since she first saw her dark, bewitching face!

Even now, after six years, Flora could feel the lash of jealous rage across her heart, and the bitter sting of the chagrin that had carried her spiritedly out of Paris and out of Carl Silver's life.

"My word! You must like that picture," drawled Jay Jourdan at her elbow again.

Mrs. Hemmingsway started. "Yes, yes! It fascinates me. Isn't it wonderful?"

"Silver's great," declared Jourdan.

"Oh! You know the artist?"

"I met him abroad. Here's here in New York now, I believe."

The widow's heart bounded. "I wonder if the picture's for sale," was what Flora said, musingly.

"I'll see Gerome—shall I?"

She nodded, and her companion flew to do her bidding. She turned again to the canvas. "Enchantment" was the title; and, leaning against a grim stone image of a Satyr, in a moonlight garden, was a girl figure wrapped in draperies of abstruse green. Roses were scattered at her feet, and wreathed in her loosened hair. She beckoned with slender white arms and her upturned face was flittingly alluring. The warm flesh tints, the shimmering draperies, the crimson and yellow roses, the vivid features, all stood out with almost startling distinctness against the background of gray stone and grayer shadows.

A thrilling emotion swept over Flora as she looked. She did not know whether she admired or hated that picture most—but she wanted to possess it! Jay Jourdan returned with the elder Gerome in his wake and fifteen minutes later "Enchantment" was the property of the wealthy Mrs. Hemmingsway.

"You look tired," remarked Jourdan after a while. "Let's have some tea."

Seated in the music-enlivened palm room of a fashionable hotel nearby, Flora's usual color and spirits returned. Familiar faces nodded at her from across rose-lighted tables. Her escort's conversation grew brilliant; his glances became tender. She tried to forget those rankling memories of by-gone days. Then Jourdan started.

"By Jove! Here's Silver now—and alone. With your permission—" He went on talking, but Flora heard in a daze. She only knew that her old lover was standing before her, greeting her, looking at her with grave, wondering eyes.

"Mrs. Hemmingsway! Can this be the purchaser of my picture, 'Enchantment'?" I just came from Gerome's and—

"Yes, I bought it," smiled Flora. "Do let us celebrate your luck and mine, Mr. Silver. And, while you are drinking your tea, I'll tell you how much I admire your work. 'Enchantment' is wonderful!"

"Such a pretty model," drawled Jourdan innocently. "An unusual type, I should say."

The eyes of the artist and the widow looked, almost challengingly, at each other. The flush on Flora's cheeks deepened.

"She was—rarely lovely," she said with an effort.

"Was? Is right. Nana Chardos is no more." The artist spoke in lowered tones. "She was my model for many pictures, but 'Enchantment' was finished from memory. There is an uncommon story connected with it. Would you care to hear it?"

The woman, sitting opposite gave a startled gesture of assent.

"I conceived the idea long ago—six years ago," he went on, with his gaze on Flora's drooping face. "Nana was just the type I sought—young, piquant, faun-like, with a delicacy of outline that is hard to find among professional models. I knew nothing of her life except that her usual manner was subdued, almost melancholy."

"Melancholy—with that face!" interrupted Jourdan.

"Poor child!" sighed the artist. "The truth came out one day. She was frightfully poor and in trouble. She had a sick husband, and when she wasn't nursing him, she was posing to earn money to provide medical care and delicacies for him. She told me this after she had slipped from her platform one day and fainted in my arms—exhausted, despairing, almost starving. That was what love meant to Nana Chardos!"

"Oh!" gasped Flora, as she sank limply back in her chair. Carl Silver was regarding her with stern, accusing eyes. She knew what was in his mind and she felt humiliated to the dust. How she had misjudged that artist in the shabby, dusty studio of Paris, six years ago!

"They both died—husband and wife," added Silver, briefly. Then he turned to his patron with a winning smile. "I hope my little story will not mar your interest in your new picture, Mrs. Hemmingsway?"

"Quite to the contrary, it has enhanced its value," said Flora, tremulously.

She arose to depart, and the two men escorted her to the waiting limousine. From her open window the young and lovely Mrs. Hemmingsway beckoned to the retreating artist.

"I should like you to see 'Enchantment' when it is hung in my gallery," she said with formal sweetness. Then her eyes flashed upon his face with a sudden revelation of emotion. "Forgive me, Carl!" she sobbed. "Ah! You—you have broken my heart a second time!"

"Flora!" He eagerly took her outstretched hand, his illumined face framed by the casement of the little window. "If you can speak like that all will be well with us yet."

And as their hands quiveringly clasped all things in the present were forgotten, and they were back again in Paris and in the glamour of the interrupted romance of their youth.

ECZEMA COVERED ENTIRE SCALP

Spread to Body, Limbs, Back and Ears. If Scratched Would Bleed and Smart. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

R. F. D. No. 2, Sunfield, Mich.—"I was troubled with eczema. It began with a sore on the top of the scalp, broke out as a pimple and grew larger until it was a large red spot with a crust or scab over it. This became larger finally covering the entire scalp and spread to different parts of the body, the limbs and back and in the ears. These sores grew larger gradually until some were as large as a quarter of a dollar.

They would itch and if scratched they would bleed and smart. The clothing would irritate them at night when it was being removed causing them to itch and smart so I could not sleep. A watery fluid would run from them. My scalp became covered with a scale and when the hair was raised up it would raise this scale; the hair was coming out terribly. My scalp and body itched all the time.

"After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment with two applications we could notice a great difference. My way of using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment was to apply the Ointment to the sores and all over the scalp, then after I would wash the sores and scalp with the Soap. In a month's time I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Underwood, Jan. 3, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

DRIFTING

DRIFTING

We went to one of those risqué shows. We saw shame-faced acquaintances there. We went to another, then to still another. Finally we acquired a decided preference for that class of performances. The writers gave the public what the public patronized. So, in time, the play in which there was no naughtiness was regarded as a "back number."

That was ten years ago. There has come a revulsion of feeling, in spots. Recently we saw it in the delighted way in which a great audience greeted "Peg O' My Heart."

It was so wholesome—sweet as an April shower. We were the scarred and wounded soul of maturity harking back to the purity of childhood. It was a refreshing hour. Perhaps we are going back to the "back numbers," the chaster thought and action.

"COLLIER'S" TAKES A SLANT AT WISCONSIN

Noting that Wisconsin is "in the heart of the nation's prosperity," Collier's Weekly in a recent editorial says that "much of this state's solid prosperity may be accounted for on the ground of the people's intelligence, and that intelligence has been gained through a generation of struggle for political reform." The situation reminds Collier's editor of Deuteronomy XXXII, 13-14:

He made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock; butter of kine, and milk of sheep, with fat of lambs, and rams of the breed of Bashan, and goats, with the fat of kidneys of wheat; and thou didst drink the pure blood of the grape.

Applying this text to the struggle now going on in this state as a result of which the stalwarts hope to again seize control of the state government, Collier's interprets our situation in the following paragraph:

But the revulsion against paying for good government may sweep the stalwarts in. William III found it easy to be popular in England while he was king of a poverty-stricken land; when he had established the Bank of England, restored the currency, and beaten Louis XIV, he lost his popularity. Moses tells that, when Israel was in the prosperous state described above, her King fell away from his standards, as the "invisible" government hopes the people of Wisconsin have done: for "Jeshurun waxed fat, and kicked." But so far the Wisconsin folks have never seriously kicked against the forces of light and leading.

CAN THEY "LIVE" WITHIN THE LAW?

Because of the position of its publisher, Mr. Louis Post, as a member of President Wilson's official family, the following paragraph from "The Public" carries considerable interest:

Less than ever can the interstate commerce commission now afford to grant to the railroads an increase in freight rates. The sudden move of these corporations toward retrenchments has an object too plain to be overlooked by the general public any more than by the commission. If a five per cent increase can be obtained by such means this year, then a ten per cent increase can be secured by the same means next year. The commission will thus be made subject to railroad control.

While there has been no official statement to that effect, for months all the news dispatches relating to the subject carried the positive impression that President Wilson is prepared to surrender to the railroads in the matter of their demand for an increase in freight rates. It is said that his feeling has been made known to members of the commission. In opposition to this there has been the work of Mr. Brandeis, who has shown clearly that the railroads, by cutting out rebating abuses and other special privileges, can make up the deficit of $50,000,000 which they now claim exists, without adding burdens to the regular shippers.

There are appearing now, in opposition to this plan, those shippers who are beneficiaries of the special concessions made by the railroads. Their action is natural, quite human. It should have no weight with the interstate commission. The question for that institution to decide is whether, living within the provisions of law, the present rates are adequate.

MARKETING IS A BUSINESS MATTER

In view of the project now being considered in La Crosse whereby a public market may be established, the following from the Milwaukee Free Press is pertinent:

A writer in The Country Gentleman tries to tell why Lancaster county in Pennsylvania stands next to the top among all counties agriculturally, for such is its claim. Outside of some excellent land, which it shares in common with other less successful counties in the same State, Lancaster county was settled by a particularly thrifty and sensible people. The investigator finds that the people have no false pride about their work. A farmer worth from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars will be found standing at the curb in the town market and personally selling his produce. And the sons and daughters of wealthy farmers take their turns at this market work as a matter of course. They have never had any false pride about it.

The market place is of no value unless there are buyers and sellers. The greatest profit to the seller and the greatest saving to the buyer, in food materials, can be made at the same time when the producer becomes his own retailer, selling directly to the consumer. It is by this sort of arrangement that La Crosse and the farmers in its trade area propose to profit, and to it we add the attractive feature of certainty of sale.

When the Selig company produced
"Thor, the Lord of the Jungle," they reached an eminence not hitherto attained in the production of wild animal features. "Thor" is a mighty shaggy-maned lion, and while the story does not deal entirely with him, yet the brute element holds the prevailing interest.
After his capture we see him sold to a circus, we follow his circus career, we see him exact swift and terrible justice upon a keeper who attempted to attack a little lady who had been kind to Thor. The little lady buys the mighty Thor, and what a feeling of elation and satisfaction fills our hearts when this little lady, on her wedding day, opens the door of the cage in far off Africa and Thor bounds forth into freedom and his own. There is education of the right sort in these three reels of pictures. The creation of a sympathy for the wild beasts of the forests who are fulfilling their destiny just as we are fulfilling ours.
This interesting feature will be shown Sunday at the Casino.

HEAVY GUARD FOR MAYOR MITCHELL

Eight Men to Form Bodyguard for New York Executive Shot at Yesterday

NEW YORK, April 18.—After visiting the New York hospital where Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk is confined, Mayor John Purroy Mitchell went about his work as usual today, following the attempt on his life, but he was guarded by eight men picked from the detective force by Police Commissioner Wood. Hereafter the mayor is to be guarded day and night by this force of special detectives. They were selected by the police commissioner for their reputation for daring and knowledge of the cranks and others who might attempt Mitchell's life.

Physicians at the New York hospital reported the condition of Polk unchanged today. The wound in his chin is painful but not serious, and the wounded corporation counsel slept during a portion of the night.

The old man who attempted to kill Mayor Mitchell and shot Polk, after hours of evasion, finally admitted last night that he was Michael P.
Mahoney and that his home was Arraigned before Magistrate Simms today on a charge of attempted murder, Michael P. Mahoney, who attempted the life of Mayor John Pur-roy Mitchell yesterday and shot Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk in the chin, was today held in $25,000 bond for action by the grand jury.

Mahoney's case will be submitted to the jury Monday when an indictment will be immediately returned.
In the meantime Vidler said a commission would probably be appointed to examine the old man as to his sanity. Mahoney was formally identified, his occupation being given as a blacksmith. He is 71 years old.
Since November 26 he said he had lived at 293 East Fifth street.

Pleasant Quarters for French Prisoner A retreat rather than a prison is the new institution which has been raised at Evreux, on the road from Paris to Trouville, says a correspondent of the London Globe. It is a large, modern, and is surrounded by a wall over 30 feet in height.

It is situated on high ground overlooking the town, and to say the least prisoners should have a very comfortable time. Each has his own cell with hammock bed washing utensils and a table for books. The cells are lighted by electricity and heated by radiators. The authorities have not forgotten the spiritual needs of their hopes. The consideration of the ministry of justice for the welfare of the prisoners is seen by an electric bell at the head of each hammock, so that the detained, if he be taken suddenly ill, can communicate with the guard.

To Keep Lemons.
As lemons are a thing that vary so much in price at different times of the year, they may be purchased when cheap and kept for months, if a little care is taken. Put a layer of fine, dry sand about an inch deep in an earthenware vessel. Place a row of lemons on this, with the stalks ends downward, and be very careful that the lemons do not touch. Cover them with another layer of sand about three inches deep, and on this layer place another lot of lemons; and so on until the jar is full. Store in a cool, dry place.

He Got Them.
"I want damages," shouted the bruised and battered citizen who had just been beaten up by his athletic rival. "I think," replied his friend and adviser, after a critical inspection,
"that if you look in the glass you'll find you've got 'em."

F. R. A. SPRING BALL

The F. R. A. will give the last big dance of the series, next Monday night, when they will put on a "Spring Awakening" dancing party at Linker's hall. Elaborate preparations are being made to make this one of the best of the series and the committees in charge expect to entertain a large crowd. The decorations and color scheme is to be in green and white with a profusion of flowers, and the entire hall is to be covered so as to represent the blooming of the spring season. The refreshment booth is to be in charge of Lillian Nowak, Lenora Ness, Ruth Atkinson, Mildred and Dora Gunther and Laura Scholberg. Special attention is being paid to a fine dance program.

GREAT MUSICAL EVENT

Recently La Crosse had an opportunity. It had "put up" to it the choice of holding its place in line with other towns such as Madison, Beloit, Northfield, Mankato, Rockford and Des Moines, as a music loving and music supporting community; or on the other hand, the opportunity of taking a back seat in this respect. The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra was coming right through our city on its way to Madison to give one of the first concerts of its annual spring tour. Should they be engaged to stop in La Crosse?
Some said, "No, we can't raise the money." Others said, "Yes, we have faith in our community; we will depend upon it."

So they are coming on Monday next for matinee and evening at the normal school. Of course one thousand children will hear them in the afternoon at the twenty-five cent rate. Seventy-five pupils are coming from Onalaska. The question is, will the parents support the evening performance, since the receipts of the matinee will not bring one-fourth of the expense?

We hear so many malicious and untruthful state-herewith give you our declaration of principles so you may for yourself tell when we are misrep-

DECLARATION OF PRINCIPLES

First—We unite as a non-sectarian, non-partisan moral force to promote and extend benevolence among our members and to promote and foster a pure spirit of patriotism and a sacred regard for the welfare of our country. It is our belief that every citizen should hold sacred his civil duties and responsibilities; and it is our desire that every office of the nation, state and municipality shall be held by men of ability, integrity and true patriotism. We hold that no citizen is a true patriot who owes allegiance to any power which claims temporal superiority over his obligations to the principles of the Constitution of the United States.

Second—As the fathers established, so are we resolved, to secure and maintain the complete separation of Church and State.

Third—We deny the right of any political or ecclesiastical organization to manipulate or control the sovereign citizenship of our people or to dispose of their civil rights and privileges for political office or power, and we are determined that every citizen shall exercise these rights and privileges unmolested, answerable only to his conscience and to his God.

Fourth—We unite to protect and preserve the free institutions of our country, especially our public educational system, against any foreign or menacing influence, and we particularly protest against the diversion of any public funds or lands to any religious purpose whatever.

Yours only for American rights by Constitu-language of Woodrow Wilson since he became president.

Huerta is told in language which he cannot misinterpret that his attitude is a continued insult and that he can expect no consideration whatever from this government until he agrees to salute the American flag exactly as Rear Admiral Mayo originally demanded.

The president's intentions are to obtain full and complete co-operation from congress in every step that is taken from now on. Not a vessel

Bryan Stays on Job

WASHINGTON, April 18.

At 1:30 this afternoon Secretary of State Bryan announced that he has cancelled his reservations on a train which he had planned to take tonight for Miami. He said he would not leave as planned.

will be permitted to enter or leave a Mexican port until such time as a complete and ample apology, and a renewed promise to "be good," shall come from Mexico. He believes that this blockade will be preliminary to actual hostilities.

Huerta to Declare War

Huerta is expected, the moment a blockade is declared, to hand Charge O'Shaughnessy his passports, and formally declare war on the United States.

There is nothing known here today as to the attitude which the constitutionalists in the north will take. But opinion among the high officials was almost that they will be hostile to the United States. The national Mexican feeling is such that if Carranza and his followers should agree to permit the United States to down Huerta without any interference, the constitutionalists' case would be crushed.

The president is considering this eventuality. While no order has been issued withdrawing permission for the exportation of arms, congress will be told how the situation looks and its advice will be asked.

It is expected congress will suggest that the present border control be made iron-clad, that all arms be held up, and that no further shipments be permitted to enter Mexico where they might possibly be used against American troops.

Inform Ambassadors

Secretary of State Bryan communicated with the various diplomatic representatives here this afternoon the fact that Huerta has received an ultimatum with a time limit attached. He has arranged to keep in constant touch with the various ambassadors and ministers and inform them of the developments from time to time.

The secretary refused to make public the text of the general substance either of O'Shaughnessy's reply from Huerta or the United States ultimatum. Bryan confirmed the fact that Huerta's message was a reiteration of the simultaneous salute demand, and that the ultimatum from the United States was the sharpest he has yet sent. The secretary explained that the Sunday six o'clock limit does not mean that the salute must be fired before that time. It means, he said, that Huerta has given until Sunday at six p. m., city of Mexico time, to agree to Admiral Mayo's demand.

Senator Shively of Indiana, acting chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, was sent for by President Wilson and was closeted with the chief executive for nearly an hour. He was very grave as he left the White house and went over to the state department to talk things over with Secretary Bryan.

National Honor Upheld
"This whole thing is now in the president's hands," said Shively, "and I cannot say anything about the matter. I have seen Mr. O'Shaughnessy's message of this morning and the president's emphatic reply. Of course I cannot tell you what was contained in those documents, but I am well satisfied that if the president reads them to congress the people of the country will be satisfied that the national honor has been upheld."

Shively said that the congressional leaders are prepared to arrange for a joint session on Monday just as soon as the president lets them know that one will be needed.

Await Huerta's Reply
The administration will now wait for a reply from Huerta. O'Shaughnessy is expected to deliver this ultimatum to the Mexican dictator this afternoon. It was stated that in view of the fact that there could be no action now until congress meets on Monday, the president will leave here at 11 o'clock tonight for White Sulphur Springs, Va. He will go there to bring back to Washington Mrs. Wilson, who is convalescing from her recent illness. The president will be at the mountain resort only a few hours, reaching there at 7:30 Sunday morning, and starting back to Washington early Sunday night. Arrangements have been made for special wires with which he can be kept in touch with the department during his entire time that he is away.

JUSTICE LOSES HIS FAITH IN MANKIND

A. Nelson, J. P., of West Salem, Sets Prisoner Loose to Get Dinner and He Fails to Re-appear

"A DIRTY TRICK" SAYS JUSTICE

Wanders About the Court House This Afternoon in Hope that His Escaped Prisoner Will Repent

A. Nelson, a West Salem justice of the peace, is this afternoon wandering about the court house building and grounds in a vain search for a convicted prisoner who failed to keep an appointment.

Nelson appeared before Judge Brindley this morning with a pair of handcuffs bulging from one pocket, a two foot billy sticking from the other and with Fred Roch in tow as prisoner.

The J. P. explained that he couldn't find the West Salem constable and had arrested Roch himself and brought him to La Crosse to stand trial for drunkenness, disorderly conduct, abusive language and threats to kill.

Judge Brindley finally arraigned Roch on a charge of drunkenness and sentenced him to ten days in the county jail. Then as the sheriff was not present, he committed Roch to Nelson's care to be delivered to the sheriff.

With the club and handcuffs still sticking conspicuously from his pockets, the justice of the peace sought a restaurant for dinner, bidding the prisoner to meet him at the court house at 2 o'clock.

Looking as ferocious and determined as ever Nelson arrived at the court house promptly at 2, but Roch failed to show up. After ten or fifteen minutes of waiting, Nelson began to grow suspicious and as time continued to draw on without his prisoner showing up, he confided in Judge Brindley, at the same time declaring that he was unable to understand it and branding Roch's conduct as "a dirty trick."

Nelson was still wandering about the court house late this afternoon in the hopes that his man might still turn up.

Instead of prosecuting the young man the automobile magnate decided to give him a chance to lead a new life and better his condition. The manufacturer, therefore, paid young Ford's way to Detroit and will give him a position at good wages with a chance for promotion if he shows ability.

O'HARA'S WORTH ABOUT $4 WEEK

CLEVELAND, O., April 18.—Lieut. Gov. Barratt O'Hara of Illinois, candidate for the United States senate from that state and chairman of the Illinois vice commission, admitted today that his economic value is about $4 a week—minimum unknown.

"Mrs. O'Hara is more valuable than I am from an economical standpoint," explained the youthful Illinois state official.

O'Hara told how he and Mrs. O'Hara investigated conditions first hand at Bridgeport, Conn. O'Hara finally secured a position in a corset factory as a roustabout at $4 a week. When he demurred at the wage offered he was told that it would at least "buy bread and soup."

O'Hara held the position three days and was discharged. His job was filled by a stalwart man who had the muscle.

In the meantime Mrs. O'Hara secured work in a knitting factory at $5 a week. She held her job the entire week and was not discharged. In addition, Mrs. O'Hara received three proposals of marriage. One would-be husband explained that he was making $11 a week and "they could live."

The remainder of the estate of about $100,000 is divided among relatives.

RUSH ALL FORCES TO PACIFIC CENTER

Cruiser South Dakota and Collier Jupiter Pressed Into Service as Transports

ARMY ORDERS ARE PREPARED

Commands Mobilizing Regulars and Militia Only Await Signature

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The armored cruiser South Dakota today proceeded from Puget Sound, Wash., to San Diego. Orders sent from the navy department today to the South Dakota called for picking up marines at Bremerton and Mare Island. The collier Jupiter was ordered to ship any remaining marines at Mare Island and sail at once for San Francisco.

The armored cruiser Albany, which was put in full commission yesterday at Puget Sound, was under orders today to stock up as rapidly as possible. It will then head for San Diego, Cal.

Between 800 and 900 marines will be aboard the two ships which today headed south on the Pacific coast.

Army activities continued today. The chief of staff has all orders prepared dealing with movements of troops, ready for the signature of War Garrison. As soon as the necessity for troops arrives, Garrison will sign these orders.

The Texas City troops will move to Galveston while all other regulars will proceed to the stations agreed on by the general staff.

Gen. Mills, commanding the militia divisions, will simultaneously mobilize the national guard of the several states at such points as they will be available. All coast artillery will be utilized as regulars and their places taken by national guardsmen.

WEEK FINANCIAL

BANK STATEMENT
NEW YORK, April 18.—The weekly actual bank statement issued today showed the following changes: Surplus, increased $2,945,450. Loans, increased $28,264,000. Specie, increased $5,241,000. Legals, increased $4,392,000. Net deposits, increased $36,361,000. Circulation, increased $493,000. Surplus reserve, $21,268,400.

NEW YORK, April 18.—That prices on the stock exchange should have recovered this morning, after the extraordinary downward movement of yesterday afternoon, was entirely natural. In that unexplained demonstration against two or three stocks which were found to be vulnerable to attack, there was evidence of aggressive professional activities in the direction of lower prices, but little else could be inferred from it. This movement must have been based in lack of reserve towards the stock market as a whole. Today's recovery in prices was not accompanied by any great activity. There was nothing of importance in the financial news of the day.

Opportunity has been known to look a man up for the purpose of downing him.

EXTRA ACT ON BILL

MISTAKE MADE BY AGENCY AND THERE WILL BE SIX NUMBERS INSTEAD OF FIVE

Through a mistake at the booking office in Chicago, six acts were booked for the Majestic for the first half of the week, instead of five, but Manager F. L. Kopelberger has accepted the six and is going to put on one of the best shows ever seen at his playhouse.

Leading off on the extra good bill are Gus Sun's Minstrels, an act embracing nine people. All who love good, old-fashioned minstrelsy will enjoy the show, if only for this act. Special scenery is carried by the act, which is one of the prettiest in vaudeville.

The Four Harmony Troupers, another musical act, come here well recommended, both from the musical and the entertaining points of view. The Willis Twins are to present a novel and unusual act.

The Ahern Brothers, in "Monlight in a Cornfield," put on one of the best minstrel acts of the season. The brothers are dancers as well as singers. Charles Gano, the monologist, will present an act which has been received well at every theater where he has appeared.

Filling out as good a musical bill that has appeared here this season, Tom and Edith Almond will present a musical novelty act which they have worked in the entire season.

would necessarily follow the creation of a woman officer would undoubtedly be greater than her cost. "The point has been raised that, technically, the city has no right to create this officer. Don't let technicalities obstruct the proposition."

Sorensen Tells of Vice

Mr. McConnell's talk was prefaced by Mayor Sorensen with a rehearsal of alleged complaints which he has received. He maintained "people came to him, fearing the 'undue publicity' they were accorded when they dealt with the police. He claimed that he had numerous cases, many of which were most shocking. These have never been reported to the police department either by the individuals or the mayor.

An intimation of just where Mr. Mahoney stands in the common council followed when he announced that he is "going to stay in the council the rest of my term and every time there comes a proposition to spend money illegally I am going to oppose it."

Action Would be Legal

Mr. McConnell was greeted with applause when he replied that the woman officer can be accomplished by merely sending instructions from the council to the chief of police to fill the vacancy at present existing on the police force with a woman.

"The charter says," he contended, "that, in the case of an emergency the council may fill vacancies. The council certainly is the judge of conditions and therefore there can be no doubt as to the legality of its action."

Mrs. George P. Bradish, one of the delegation from the Twentieth Century club, declared that both Chief Webber and County Judge John Brindley had assured her that, in their opinions, a police woman would be of immense value to the police department. She cited several cities in which the plan had been proven successful.

Collins Scores Aldermen

Mrs. A. Chubb, president of the La Crosse Women's club, declared that she had evidence of shocking conditions in La Crosse and that the city school nurse had unearthed highly immoral conditions. Alderman William Collins scored the absent aldermen, intimating that they were "ducking" the issue and made a motion for two weeks' delay on the matter. He had no more hit his seat than the mayor was on his feet calling the ladies' attention to the "attempt of the aldermen to evade the matter and play politics."

It was following this that Alderman Burt Smith took occasion to declare that conditions could be improved if the police were more diligent and said:

"I honestly believe that if any alderman had the nerve to stand on the floor of this council and criticize the police the police will have it in for him. The chief of police may be sincere but he isn't paying enough attention to detail."

Mayor's Views Vary

Mayor Sorensen declared that street conditions in La Crosse today are twenty times worse than they were when the red light district was closed. Testifying before the Wisconsin legislative vice committee recently he declared he thought conditions had improved since the abolition of the district and that he had no complaints.

Alderman Adam Kroner arose to defend the police, claiming conditions here were better than they were under any previous regime, that wine rooms were abolished and that the streets had and were being cleaned up.

The committee voted to delay action for two weeks.

DISCUSS QUESTION OF SUFFRAGE DAY

Women of City Meet to Decide Upon Form of Celebration for May Second

The La Crosse County Equal Suffrage association met at the public library hall at 3 o'clock this afternoon to take up the question of a Suffrage Day celebration in LaCrosse. Officers of the La Crosse association recently received notice that May 2 has been set aside throughout the United States as Suffrage Day. The officers of the state organizations have called upon all suffrage organizations throughout the state to hold some form of demonstration on Suffrage Day.

This afternoon's meeting was called in response to the request of the state officers for the purpose of deciding on some form of celebration. Several women at this afternoon's meeting declared in favor of some form of local talent entertainment in preference to the parade.

WILL EXPLAIN THE CONCERT PROGRAM

Homer E. Cotton to Give Preliminary Lecture to Symphony Orchestra
Concert

The concert to be played by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra on Monday night at the normal school will be explained by Mr. Homer Cotton at the general assembly at 10:30 on Monday morning. He will play the numbers on the graphophone so as to give an idea of the melody and will also give a talk explaining the composition and meaning of the different numbers. This is being done so as to give any one interested in hearing the concert an opportunity to get acquainted with the numbers. The public is invited.

The concert given by the normal school band yesterday afternoon on the east campus of the normal attracted a great deal of attention. There are nearly forty members in the band and the class of music they play is high. It is planned to have the normal band give weekly concerts on the normal campus and also to have it play in the down parks once a week.

The high school and normal school baseball teams will play the first game of the season on the normal school grounds on next Wednesday night.

A number of the normal students took advantage of the excellent weather of yesterday and as a result several picnic suppers were enjoyed on the summit of Granddud bluff.

Arthur Strum of the physical education department, is at La Farge and will remain there for a couple of weeks, coaching the track team of the high school there. The La Farge school has already signified its intention of entering the meet to be held by the local normal for the district high schools on the 23rd of May.

The normal school track has been raked and rolled and is now being used by the track candidates, who are training for the inter-normal track meet.

Make Our Own Troubles.
"We talk so much and we think so much of the trouble we have with others that we more than half persuade ourselves that if everybody else were just right we could get on easily in life; but the fact is that more than half of our troubles with others grow out of our own faults and failures, and are not due to the faults or failures of other people at all."

WRITE STORIES FOR MOVING PICTURE PLAYS

New, Spare-time Profession for Men and Women—One Man Makes
$3,500 in Six Months

Owing to the large number of new motion picture theaters which are being opened throughout the country, there is offered to the men and women of today, a new profession, namely, that of writing moving picture plays. Producers are paying from $25 to $150 for each scenario accepted, upon which they can build a photo play.

$3,500 in Six Months
As it only requires a few hours' time to construct a complete play, you can readily see the immense possibilities in this work. One man, who gave the idea a tryout, writes that he earned $3,500 in six months. It is possible for an intelligent person to meet with equal success.

One feature of the business which should appeal to everyone, is that the work may be done at home in spare time. No literary ability is required and women have as great an opportunity as men. Ideas for plots are constantly turning up, and may be put in scenario form and sold for a good price.

CHILD BEATER MAY GET LONG STRETCH

Peter Abegglen Admits
Beating His Daughter
Cruelly; His Sister
May Be Deported

Peter Abegglen, 1315 Green Bay street, who today admitted in county court that he had cruelly beaten his thirteen year old daughter, may be tried for a statutory offense, the conviction of which would mean imprisonment for the greater part of his life.

According to the story unfolded in court this morning, the child is suffering from an abscess in her ear and a hole in her skull but has received no medical attention. Her father admits losing his temper and beating the child and neighbors claim they found blood streaming from several wounds inflicted about the head and shoulders by the infuriated father.

Abegglen and a sister, who has been living at his home, since her arrival from Switzerland two months ago, are charged with a serious crime by the police. The allegation was strenuously denied by Abegglen.

According to Chief of Police John Webber, however, his children tell a story which leaves little doubt of his guilt in the minds of the authorities.

Judge Brindley fined Abegglen $10 and costs for beating his child and Poor Commissioner Sol Burdick issued orders for immediate medical attention for the girl at the father's expense.

Regarding the more serious offense, no decision has been reached by the district attorney as to whether prosecution will be made against Abegglen, but it was practically agreed today between Judge Brindley and the district attorney to have the sister deported without delay.

Ancient Cult of the Flycatcher.
Beelzebub was the fly god of Ekron (referred to in II Kings 1:2, 3, 4 and 10). The great god Baal was sometimes worshiped as the "lord of the fly," as he who drives off the flies. The flies were then and are now man's worst enemies in Palestine and Egypt. We remember well how we had to be continually fighting them off with fans when we were travelling in those lands. The flies settled on the eyes of the children and literally sucked out their eyesight.—Christian Herald.

Keep Faith With Yourself.
Success in life means keeping one's faith with oneself and with one's friends. It means being content to travel along the path of righteousness in spite of the fact that worldly good and ease do not lie along that path. Most of all it means "to be honest, to be kind, to earn a little and to spend a little less," and to take joy in the world and to spread happiness and joy to all near you.

The Brownies Sent Out Invitations.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story — The Brownies' Bonfire Party For the Fairies.

THE fairies had really been very busy, but Jack and Evelyn had not heard about them for a long time.

"Can't you tell us a story about the fairies tonight?" asked Evelyn.

"Please do!" chimed in Jack.

"Yes, indeed!" answered daddy. "I could really tell you lots of stories about them, for they have been having all sorts of good times these nice spring days. But the other evening they had a nice party that was given just for them."

"The brownies, you know, love lots of excitement and lots going on all the time. They're never happy unless they can be jumping about enjoying life. So they sent out an invitation to the fairies which read:

"The brownies of Brownieland request the pleasure of the company of every one of the fairies of Fairyland to a bonfire party on Thursday evening. The brownies expect no replies, as they expect every fairy will just come."

"The fairies were much excited when they received this invitation. The brownies' parties were always such fun, and a bonfire party—well, that was wonderful! The fairies hadn't thought of bonfires somehow for a long time."

"Now, the fairy queen said that they'd have to arrive at the brownies' party in some unusual manner, as that would please the brownies. She suggested that they should engage some hopping toads to pull their chariots to the party."

"The fairies thought that was a splendid idea, and they engaged the hopping toads. The hopping toads were much honored at being chosen to take the fairies to the brownies' party."

"When the great big bonfire was lighted the brownies entertained the fairies by doing a lot of fancy dances around the bonfire. The hopping toads were allowed to stay and watch the bonfire too. It was the most beautiful blaze, and how the fairies did love seeing it! But of course they were very careful not to go too near the fire."

"After it had died down and only the red embers remained the brownies sang jingles, and the fairies joined in the chorus. And then, to the huge amusement of all, what should the hopping toads do but get up and do a special dance of their own! They wanted to feel that they were a part of the party too."

"It was all the fairies could do to say 'Good night' when it came time to leave, for they had had the most glorious time at the brownies' bonfire party and they thought the brownies were the most wonderful party givers that ever lived. The brownies were delighted that the fairies had had such a good time and were so pleased, for they thought that it was all a brownie could ask for to please a fairy."

Honesty Always Best.
Honesty in dealing with ourselves and one another has been one of the axioms since time began. We cannot afford to be otherwise. It is the best and only way. Being honest saves worry and fretting, it helps make character and it gives us joy in life to know that we have been honest when we might have been otherwise to our temporary gain.

POEMS
You Ought To Know

THE SONG OF THE MYSTIC
(By Father Ryan)
I walk down the Valley of Silence—
Down the dim, voiceless valley—Alone!
And I hear not the fall of a footstep Around me, save God's and my own;
And the hush of my heart is as holy As hovers where angels have flown!
Long ago I was weary of voices Whose music my heart could not win;
Long ago I was weary of noises
That fetter my soul with their din;
Long ago I was weary of places Where I met but the human—and sin.
In the hush of the Valley of Silence
I dream all the songs that I sing;
And the music floats down the dim Valley,
Till each finds a word for a wing,
That to hearts, like the Dove of the Deluge,
A message of Peace they may bring.
Do you ask me the place of the Valley,
Ye hearts that are harrowed by Care?
It lieth afar between mountains,
And God and His Angels are there;
And one is the dark mount of Sorrow
And one the bright mountain of Prayer.

Peace Union Offers Prizes
The Church Peace union, endowed the other day by Andrew Carnegie with $2,000,000, announces money prizes for ministers, any religious body, for young women and young men, and for Sunday school pupils, and it has just voted $10,000 for the expense of a world peace conference to be held this summer either in London or Berne. The prize open to ministers is $1,000 for a monograph on any phase of international peace, preferably 15,000 words long. It must be 10,000 words at least, and must not exceed 20,000. The union hopes to obtain in this way a monograph that it may find worth printing for general distribution, possibly translating into several languages. Three prizes of $500, $300 and $200 are offered for monographs on the same subject, not to exceed 5,000 words, written by students in theological schools.
The union proposes to distribute $3,000 in prizes to young men and young women, and the Sunday school pupils. These are to be for essays, but fuller announcements of conditions are to be made later. It is stated that invitations to twenty American clergymen, various religious bodies, are to be extended to go to England, Germany and Switzerland, possibly to some parts of the United States, expenses to be paid by the union, to speak in behalf of world peace, and the co-operation of the peoples of the nations named to make that peace permanent. The purpose of this invitation by the union is to make larger use of churches in the interest of peace. The headquarters of the union, located temporarily in the Bible house, New York, are to be removed at once to the new educational building in lower Fifth avenue in that city. The number is seventy.

Methodists to Observe Death of Bishop Coke
Methodists North, South and Protestant are asked to observe, on May 3, the one hundredth anniversary of the death, while on a ship on the Indian ocean, of Bishop Thomas Coke. The death actually occurred on May 2, a century ago, and burial took place at sea. Boards of foreign missions of all three bodies named, and of education of the northern Methodist body, will recognize the anniversary. Methodist pastors are asked to preach on Methodism, English and American, and ministers Monday meetings are planning to bring up Methodist history, especially the history of education as fostered by Methodism in both countries.
Thomas Coke was an early co-worker with John Wesley, and as much as Wesley himself, Coke is the property of world Methodism. It was Coke who organized the Methodist church and secured for it a legal standing. It was Coke also who founded Methodist missions to Great Britain's provinces, to America and India, and it was he finally who founded Methodist educational and literary work. The last named has resulted in far greater financial value and influence in America than in England, where Coke lived and projected. Coke visited this country many times, and came to be known as the "foreign minister of Methodism."
Missionary Boards Show Deficit
Two great missionary boards, both doing home work and together handling $1,300,000 a year, have just closed their books for the year and report unfavorably on the times. One of them, the Congregational home, states last year to have been one of the most difficult in its long history to get money. There was no let up in interest, but people had not money to give. The other, the Baptist home, fell into debt $31,000. Two years ago it had a debt of $72,000. Last year it paid off half of Seth Low Has New Plan for Effecting Church Union in Which He Would Ordain All New Ministers by a Union of Three Forms now in Use.

The most practical note that has been yet sounded in the ever increasing volume of discussion concerning church union was uttered recently by a layman, the Honorable Seth Low of New York. He proposes that as the simplest way to abolish slavery is to decree that all children shall be born free, so the easiest and surer method of overcoming disagreements about technicalities of the Christian ministry is to plan for the ordination of every new minister, whatever his denomination, by a union of the three forms that are in use in Christian churches; that is to say, every new minister would be ordained by the laying on of bishop's hands, by representatives of a presbytery and by congregational authority.
This would also be a long step toward overcoming the second great obstacle to church union, in that it would help all Christians to agree to share in a common participation in the Sacrament of the Lord's supper.
Dr. Low's proposition is, that without attempting to come to an agreement between the great schools as a continuing sacrifice requiring therefore a priestly act; and the other, who look upon the Lord's supper as an act of remembrance, holy in character, but not sacrificial in nature, all Christians simply ask a church comprehensive enough to admit members holding both these views. The form of ordination, which would need simply the participation of an Episcopal bishop, some Presbyterian ministers and representatives of the Baptist, Disciple or Congregational churches, would have qualified every minister to meet the requirements of either party.

A Workable Plan
This proposition of Dr. Low is certain to attract increasing attention. He sums it up in these words. "But is it impossible or unworthy to ask the holders of both of these views, recognizing this difference of conception and each holding to his own views, to partake of the holy communion together, although to some the board to which both come is an altar and to others only a holy table? What is needed is the growth, not of a spirit of compromise but of the spirit of comprehensiveness, so that man, without compromising in the slightest particular their own conceptions as to the nature of the church, may become willing frankly to be members of a church that is large enough to hold men differing from them even in these fundamental conceptions, yet owning allegiance with them to the same common Lord and Master."
The occasion of these utterances was a notable gathering of the missionary leaders of the United States and Canada. The occasion of the utterances at this three day conference, were so important contribution to the general subject of Christian unity, that they are now going through the press and will, ere long, be published. Dr. Low was one of the last speakers in the notable series and the atmosphere had been prepared for his radical proposition by the presentation of news from all mission lands, concerning what is being actually accomplished in united Christian activity, and by the viewpoint of the missionary leaders, who are avowedly progressives on the whole subject of church union.

THEY ARE TALKING MUCH ABOUT STRIPES THESE DAYS.
One of the leading motifs in summer materials is stripes; there are striped velvets, striped crepes, striped eponges, striped nets and numberless other striped fabrics that are cool and becoming. The eponge suitings show a hairline stripe of black or color; some of the imported cottons have a wide stripe of white chenille edged with a line of black or color, and then there are the very popular awning stripes. These awning stripes are used for both blouses and frocks and are very effective. No. 8165 illustrates the awning stripe in an afternoon gown; the material is a French printed net and is priced at 75 cents a yard. A two-piece, gathered tunic is a feature of this dress and a gathered gumpie of plain white net.
This dress requires for a girl of 16, 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.
The pannered gown shown on the other figured is fashioned of crepe in which there is a fine line of bright green; collar and trimming sections are of bright green voile, and the girdle is green velvet. The crocheted buttons and loops are effective as trimming. This dress may be copied in size 36 with 6 3/4 yards of 36 inch material.

CAR SMASHES CYCLISTS

CHICAGO, April 18.—Myrtle Pfeiffer, 18, and her fiancé, Charles Kappmeyer, 24, were fatally injured today when a Lincoln street car smashed into the motorcycle on which they were riding.

"Something Blue."

The "something blue" that the bride wears when going to the altar is generally a pair of garters. A recently-seen pair was a bridesmaid's gift, knitted in the palest blue silk, very evenly done with a pair of fine needles, and given silver clasps set with turquoise and seed pearls.

CHILDREN END STRIKE

CLEVELAND, O., April 18.—Five hundred children of the North Dean school called off their strike against their alleged fire-trap building when an investigation was promised.

One on Teacher.

The teacher was telling the children a long, highly embellished story about Santa Claus, and Willie Jones began giggling with mirth, which finally got beyond his control. "Willie! What did I whip you for yesterday?" asked the teacher severely. "For lyin'!" promptly answered Willie.—Everybody's Magazine.

CRISIS FINDS THE PRESIDENT GOLFING

A Wild Automobile Rush Carries Bryan and Tumulty to Their Chief

DECIDE ON MOVE IN AUTOMOBILE

Hold Whispered Consultation and Settle Plans
When Cars Meet
in Road

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A wild rush by automobile eight miles into Virginia to reach President Wilson on the golf links today preceded the most important council of the Mevican crisis. Overlooking the historic Potomac, a dusty road, the scarred hills of Virginia were the setting of the meeting between President Wilson, Secretary of State Bryan and Secretary Tumulty.

Interrupts Golf

The president was playing his fourteenth hole on the picturesque links, in a scene of spring verdure and peace. He was interrupted by a secret service man who told him that an important message had been received from Huerta and would be brought to him in person by Bryan. The white house had telephoned to the club.

"Here, boy, take these clubs," Wilson said. He retraced his steps over the rolling greens to the clubhouse. Without waiting for Bryan and Tumulty to arrive, the president hurriedly donned his tan duster and goggles and climbed into his car.

Less than half a mile outside the club grounds, an open car bearing Bryan and Tumulty approached. It was enveloped in a cloud of dust. Each party guessed the identity of the other. The brakes creaked and groaned as the two cars came to an abrupt halt.

"I have some important news," Mr. Bryan is reported to have said, breathlessly, as he jumped from his car, followed by Tumulty, almost before it halted. Secret service men in the president's car were hastily transferred to Tumulty's, Bryan and Tumulty jumping in beside the president.

Whispered Council

While the engines of the cars throbbed, ready for the return to Washington, Bryan and the president, with heads together, read the latest dispatch from Charge O'Shaughnessy. A few whispered words followed. Tumulty joined in the subdued council. Then came the order to "go ahead."

Bouncing over the quaint country road on the trip back to the white house, the ultimatum to Huerta was decided upon by the three in the president's car. It was reported that the president himself dictated much of the reply to be transmitted to O'Shaughnessy.

Daily Thought.

With a little more patience and a little less temper, a gentler and wiser method might be found in almost every case, and the knot that we cut by some fine, heady quarrel scene in private life or in public affairs, by some denunciatory act against what we are pleased to call our neighbor's vices, might yet have been woven by the hand of sympathy.—Stevenson.

Fountain of Cheerfulness.

Be cheerful; do not brood over fond hopes unrealized, until a chain, link by link, is fastened on each thought and wound round the heart. Nature intended you to be the fountain spring of cheerfulness and social life, and not the traveling monument of despair and melancholy.—Helps.

Undecided.

We may well be astonished at the death certificate recently submitted by a native doctor at an inquest in far-away India. "I think she died or lost her life for want of food, or on account of starvation and perhaps for other things of her comfortables, and most probably she died by drowning."

CHICAGO, April 18.—General rains over Oklahoma and Kansas since the close yesterday took about ¾c off the price of wheat futures today. The rain put an end to dry map reports and also checked the spread of insects reported attacking the crop.

Corn continued its disastrous slump today, dropping off 1c to 1½c. The liquidation started early in the morning on reports of heavy Argentine sales to the Atlantic seaboard. Oats resisted the downward pressure of the other grains with fair success. May lost only ½c and July ¾c today.

Provisions opened higher for the first time in several days, the light hog run inspiring buying of pork.

WON'T BUY GOOD CIGARS

CHICAGO, April 18.—Oliver Norton, can manufacturer, who was left $250 with which to buy cigars, in the will of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Vincent of Cincinnati, may turn the money over to charity. Norton, whose favorite brand comes at six-for-a-quarter, discovered a joker in the will today, specifying that he must spend $250 for "the best cigars he can buy."

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

BY HAL SHERIDAN

The Detroit Tigers refused to salute the prodigal Earl Hamilton gun for gun on his first appearance after his jump to the Federals and back again, and he promptly sank the Jennings craft.

Hamilton allowed six hits, but Ty Cobb got nary a one.

The pitchers are having the best of the argument so far. There were four shutouts yesterday.

Caldwell held the Mackian forces to three measly hits.

Joe Boehling treated Boston even worse. He held the Red Sox to two hits and administered a second shutout.

Atchison, International league recruit, stepped in among the Brush-Wielders by holding the Boston Braves to five hits and no runs.

The Pirates made it three out of four against the Cardinals.

The Giants were smeared again by the Phillies. Merkle's four base knock scored their only run, while Tesreau was being smashed for eight safeties and three runs.

The Cubs stowed away their game with the Cincinnati Reds when two triples and two bases on balls were responsible for three runs.

The crippled Naps' tumble against the White Sox made four straight.

Of the three games in the Federal league two went into extra innings. It took Kansas City thirteen long innings to beat Chicago, and St. Louis went eleven innings before getting the decision over Indianapolis.

MCCOY WANTS SANITARIUM

DENVER, Col., April 18.—A health and physical culture auditorium will be established in Denver by Norman Shelby (Kid McCoy), according to Shelby himself, today. He is here looking over "the lay of the land" and if everything looks right he declared he will open such a sanitarium as he planned.

To Clean Stove.

When cleaning a stove that has been splashed with fat from the frying pans the best plan is to take a piece of rag and dip it into the soft soot at the back of the stove, rubbing the greasy parts before applying the blacking. This improves the appearance of the stove, and you can polish it without difficulty.

RITCHIE WINS A 20 ROUND DECISION

Murphy Target for Champ's Blows but Stays to the End; Three Rounds Even

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Harlem Tommy Murphy is one of the strongest and cleverest defensive fighters in the ring today, but his lack of punch makes him hopeless as a championship possibility.

This was the opinion expressed today by fans who saw Willie Ritchie obtain a twenty round decision over the veteran here last night. The terrific right crosses which have brought victory for Ritchie in most of his fights were landed freely by him but they did not seriously faze his opponent. Murphy's long experience taught him exactly the proper time to clinch and as a result he saved himself from serious damage repeatedly. In only three of the twenty rounds did Murphy have an even break. In the others he was the target for a shower of crushing blows that would have put a less hardy boxer to sleep.

Ritchie was scarcely marked by the encounter, while Murphy was covered with bruises.

MARATHON TODAY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18.—Thirty-four runners left this morning for Gumbo, Mo., where the starting shot of the tenth and last annual marathon of the Missouri Athletic club will be fired at noon. They are expected to finish the 26 mile grind at the club's quarters in the Southern hotel here about 3 p. m.

Joe Erxleben, M. A. C. entrant, is held as probable winner, with Sidney Hatch of the Illinois Athletic club, who has won four of the nine previous races as chief contender.

Diamond studded medals are offered to the first three to finish.

RELAY CARNIVAL ON AT DES MOINES

Wisconsin Team Among Chief Contenders in Four Mile Event; Fourteen Schools Represented

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 18.—Western relay honors will be decided this afternoon when the pick of the sprinters and distance men of the west meet in the annual Drake relay carnival. Fourteen schools are entered in the university class and morning trains brought fast men and rooters in large numbers. New western records are expected in the two mile, where Illinois, Northwestern and Kansas are picked to lead and in the four mile where Missouri, Chicago, Wisconsin and Illinois each have entered star quartets. Drake, the entertaining school, will attempt to hold its title to the half mile event, in which it won a spectacular victory a year ago.

In the college section eleven schools will compete, the strongest teams being picked to represent line of St. Paul, Coe of Cedar Rapids, Knox of Galesburg and Yankton. Twenty Iowa high schools will compete in the high school section. The big events this year will be the half mile, mile, two mile and four mile in the university class.

MILLER WINS FROM INJURED WRESTLER

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., April 18.—After 1 hour, 17 minutes and 30 seconds of gruelling work last night, Walter Miller of St. Paul, welterweight champion wrestler of the world, retained his title by winning a decision over George Walker, welterweight champion of Canada. Walker obtained the first fall in one hour and 17 minutes. Thirty seconds after the bell for the second bout, Miller picked Walker up bodily and dropped him to the mat on his head, and easily won the second bout. Walker's neck was badly sprained and he was not allowed to enter the ring again.

Mayer, one of Dooin's recruits, pitched a splendid game for the locals, holding the Giants to five scattered hits. Merkle did his best to get the McGraw men started by clouting the ball into the center field bleachers for a home run in the fourth. His comrades, however, could not respond and this was the only New York tally of the game. Score: R H E
New York .000100000—1 5 1

FANATICAL FANCIES

The Irish battlers who have appeared in La Crosse have uniformly failed to show sufficient class, thereby disappointing a large delegation of sons of Erin, whose loyalty to the Ould Sod has made them select the lads with the emerald cast to their names as winners. The S. & S. cigar store is headquarters for fight fans in La Crosse, and ever since the fight game was organized here, there have been two factions, the Irish and the Dutch, picking the winners, regardless of records, on the strength of their patronymics. So far, the Dutch have had the laugh on the Celtic contingent. Joe Welling, whose real name is Wolfing, cleaned up Farrell, and thereby jolted the Irish enthusiasts, and when Spike Hennessy went down to defeat the laugh rose and swelled. Now Mr. Henry Rooney, matchmaker of the La Crosse A. C., is one of the gentlemen of Irish descent, who has consistently picked his countrymen to win. He has suffered with the rest, but he's as optimistic as ever over the chances of Barney O'Neill, who is to meet Mike Schneider, whose name has a German savor, at the La Crosse Theater next Tuesday. A. H. Schubert, Gus Keller, and Ed Steinmetz are beginning to wonder if there can be anything back of the alacrity with which Rooney, Jack White, Ed Sheridan and F. J. McWilliams are accepting all bets offered on Schneider.

W. N. Millard, local horseman, will take a string of six horses from La Crosse to Janesville early next week to develop them for their summer and fall work. Four of the sextet belong to Assemblyman C. L. Hood, and among them is Alice McGregor, the legislator's sensational mare. Alice has made a mile in 2:09 already this year, and Millard expects great things from her when she starts her racing in Michigan July 1. Alice is entered in seven races for $1,000 stakes for as many weeks following her opening heat. Millard's horse, President Jr., is also with the string. He is in good shape, and is expected to trot in the neighborhood of 2:10. With the string also goes Joe Bart's Allerton mare. Incidentally, Mr. Millard made it plain today that he is taking his string to Janesville to train because of the mile track there, and not because of any dissatisfaction with the conduct of the local fair grounds track. He said that a mile track was necessary to develop fully the speed of which his animals are capable.

Ad Wolgast has called off his row with Johnny Tillman scheduled for next Thursday at Hudson, Wis. And we suspect that Mr. Tillman isn't going to mourn deeply.

There's a town in Massachusetts called Marblehead. It ought to be a good baseball town.

A town of Shelby constable is showing the rod on which he caught the fish to prove a tale he is telling of a three and a half pound trout.

Hope springs eternal in the human breast. Sixteen thousand St. Louis fans turned out to see the Federals open their season.

Letics back another peg, beating them 4 to 0. Score: R H E
Philadelphia .000000000—0 4 0
New York .00002200X—4 7 1
Batteries: Brown, Wyckoff and Lapp; Caldwell and Sweney.

WASHINGTON 1; Boston 0
BOSTON, April 18.—Washington got away with the big end of the series by taking yesterday's game 1 to 0. Both Leonard and Boehling pitched high class ball. Score: R H E
Washington .000000001—1 6 0
Boston .000000000—0 2 4
Batteries: Boehling and Henry; Leonard and Carrigan.

CHICK EVANS TO ENGLAND

Hour of Death.

When the hour of trouble comes to the mind or the body, or when the hour of death comes, that comes to high and low, then it is not what we have done for ourselves, but what we have done for others, that we think on most pleasantly.—Sir Walter Scott.

Progress.

IMPORTANT TOPICS BEFORE GOVERNORS

Executives from All Over Nation to Gather for Annual Meeting at Madison in June

CABINET MEMBERS ARE INVITED

Notables of International Reputation to Be Present; First Convention in Middle West

MADISON, Wis., April 18. — Five important topics of discussion will be taken up by the governors' conference that meets here June 9, according to the preliminary program announced by Secretary Miles C. Riley today. These topics will be:

"Report of the Committee on Cooperation"—Gov. Emmet O'Neal of Alabama.

"State Control of Natural Resources"—Gov. William Spry, Utah.

"Uniformity of Laws Fixing the Conditions to be Met by Foreign Corporations Before Doing Business in a State."

"Administrative Problems—Extradition—Submission of the Governors' Recommendations in Bill Form."

"Uniformity of Safety and Sanitation Laws for Places of Employment, Including Administrative Machinery."

Each of these topics will be discussed by at least five governors. The meeting will be opened on Tuesday morning in the assembly chamber of the new $6,000,000 state capitol of Wisconsin, by addresses of welcome delivered by Gov. Francis E. McGovern of Wisconsin; Carl A. Johnson, president of the Madison Chamber of Commerce and Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin. One of the responses to the addresses of welcome will be made by Gov. Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming.

Members of the president's cabinet and other persons in public life have been invited and will participate in the program. Madison is the first city in the central portion of the United States to be honored by the meeting of the governors' conference. All other of the six meetings have been held in the east, south and west. The last day of the meeting will be spent in Milwaukee.

"I am pleased with the numerous responses and enthusiasm of the governors over the coming conference," said Secretary Riley today. "It looks as though it would be the best meeting ever held."

GATEWAY CITY CLUB LEADS TOURNAMENT

Juniors and Athletics Defeated in First Week's Play of Germania Bowling Tourney

The Gateway City club is leading by a good sized margin in the first week's play of the annual bowling tournament of the Germania. William Ott is leading with two individual high scores, one of 2,375 made last night and the other of 2,419 rolled in the Monday game.

The scores of the week follow:

AMERICAN POLOISTS EXPECTED TO KEEP THE CUP; PONIES AND PLAYERS IN TRIM

Captain Waterbury (in foreground) and two contestants for the American team at Lakewood, N. J.

Some pretty clever playing mixed with mighty fast work was the feature of the opening of the practice games at Lakewood, N. J., the other day between the Red and the Blue, made up of some of the old guard of the polo team. Rapidly the players are getting into trim so that they may be prepared when the time comes for choosing the makeup of the team which will meet the crack players from Britain. Experts predict the Americans will keep the cup on this side of the Atlantic.

SUFFRAGETTE POINTERS

In the inter-collegiate debates just held between teams representing Harvard, Yale and Princeton, the decision in each case was on the merits of the question, not on the merits of the question, and in each case the negative won. A diverting circumstance is that after studying the merits of the debaters themselves have almost all become converts to suffrage.

Before they studied up for this debate, five of the nine men on the Harvard team were opposed to suffrage and four in favor. Now eight are in favor and only one is opposed. A member of the Princeton team writes to the editor of the Woman's Journal: "The study we have made of the question has convinced us all of the right and justice, yes, even expediency of the measure—even those who argued on the negative."

The president of the New York State W. S. A. challenged the winning Yale team to debate with "real suffragists," and the invitation has been declined. Probably most of the Yale men have been converted, too.

It is a fine thing to have almost all of the most promising young orators in three great universities converted to a belief in equal suffrage. The debates roused much interest.

Texas men form suffrage league. Senator Gronna says suffrage amendment will be adopted in North Dakota this fall. "Family," "Private," and "Ladies' Entrance," signs on saloons in Chicago were prohibited last week by the city council with little dispute.

Margaret: How does your friend, Mrs. Brown, stand on the suffrage question?

Anna: She's doing picket duty.

Margaret: Doing picket duty—what for suffrage?

Anna: Oh, no, she's on the fence. The New York Men's league for woman suffrage is planning a beautiful pageant and ball to be given April 11 at the 71st regiment armory with the aid of the Equal Franchise society.

Sunday was a red letter day in Des Moines. Churches have suffrage speeches from prominent women at the conference.

Rhode Island Suffrage party to push celebration seven days instead of one.

Illinois elections have been sufficiently done in the daily press.

TRY CITY MANAGER.

HORICON, Wis., April 18.—Edw. C. Rehfeld, former merchant here, was elected city accountant at $1,000 a year, and has taken charge of the various departments of the city's affairs. He will be practically city manager, as nearly so as can be under the present Wisconsin charter law.

GIRL KILLS SELF.

GREEN BAY, Wis., April 18.—Viola Lane, 20 years old, of Oconto Falls, who has been working as a waitress in this city for several weeks, was found dead in a room in a downtown building last night. An empty carbolide acid bottle was found on a bed near her and it is believed she committed suicide.

CITY EMPLOYEE WHITE SLAVER

Chief Clerk in Milwaukee Comptroller's Office Indicted for Transporting Grace Morton

MILWAUKEE, April 18.—John M. Maloney, chief clerk in the office of City Comptroller Louis M. Koticki, was arrested yesterday under the Mann white slave act, following his indictment by the federal grand jury on twenty counts.

The action was based upon alleged relations with Grace Morton, who created a sensation recently by an attempted suicide, and followed it with a statement that it was caused by the strained relations between herself and Maloney.

A side issue of the Maloney case was the arrest of Chas. W. Capper, Grand avenue business man, upon a charge of perjury for testimony which he gave before the grand jury Thursday afternoon. He denied seeing Maloney and the Morton woman in Chicago.

The arrests were made yesterday afternoon by Deputy United States Marshal Charles Reinardy. Maloney was released shortly after on $10,000 bail and Capper furnished $5,000 bail.

Wait Long for Burial.

Close by Canton, China, is the hill called Queen of Heaven mountain, on the lower slopes of which is the famous City of the Dead. There bodies wait in their coffins sometimes several years before the priests are able to determine an auspicious day for interment.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have taken much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
